WEDNESDAY EVENING FESTIVALS AT THE CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF ART

Chamber music, the 1933 feature film Alice in Wonderland, a workshop on Sasanian art, a film about artist Georgia O'Keeffe, and a lecture on the Crimean War Drawings of Constantin Guys (pronounced gee) make Wednesday July 26 an event-filled free evening at The Cleveland Museum of Art. It's the last of the Museum's free Wednesday Evening Festivals for 1978 and promises to be one of the best with music to begin at 5:30 and most other events at 7:30. For more information call The Cleveland Museum of Art, 421-7340, ext. 419.
